

THE UNPAINTED MURAL

- AN EXALTED FAN-PROJECT -

Premise: Collectively raise funds from adamant Exalted fans, to get Exalted characters, creatures, environments, and locations illustrated for personal use in campaigns and gaming sessions.

Overview: We plan on utilizing Kickstarter to start a campaign to raise $2,500 to hire artists, who will then produce illustrations for personal use by the Exalted community. We've currently calculated $250 for each illustration which would give us 9-10 total top quality images, depending on image complexity and such. The total number of images could change drastically depending on how much we raise.

EXAMPLES GREAT WORK BY GREAT ARTISTS

The Pyrrhic Triumph by Corpsewatch

by Conor Cole, potential artist for The Unpainted Mural

Comissioned as a gift to our player's group by sly9 (Ryan), this artwork depicts the group shortly after the famed battle of Corpsewatch, a siege that took more than 25.000 lives. From left to right, the characters are: Hawkeye, Atlas, Hishiro Kento, Dakai (aka: Pale Heartbeat Wind; on the monolith), Saffron Shadow Strategos and the Seven Swords Saint.

"To Saeralis and Beyond"

by Jack Eaves, confirmed artist for The Unpainted Mural

A slave junk navigates stormy waters along the coast of the Southwest Creation and prepares to make a port call at a trading port before heading onwards to the Port of Dragon's Jaw, and then to Salt-Founded Glory. In its cargo hold, the ship carries a large group of slaves, three of which are Solar Exalts.
